

MASTER HUNTER PROGRAM

A PROJECT OF ONE MONTANA

Everett Headley, Lead Instructor, everetth@onemontana.org

Everett Headley grew up hunting and fishing the mountains and streams near Frenchtown and now lives in the Bitterroot Valley. After graduating high school and college, he served four years with the U.S. Navy. He has taught hunter education for the past six years and now serves as the Ravalli County Bow Hunter Education Chief, teaching several classes each year. Everett also serves on the Region 2 Citizen Advisory Committee for MTFWP, and is active in many conservation organizations including Boone and Crockett and the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation. As a graduate of the 2018 pilot class he recognized early the value and potential of the Montana Master Hunter Program and after volunteering in 2019, is committed to the program as a contractor.
